JOHNSON—WHITEHEAD

Johnson, of Bogart, Ga., to Orman William Whitehead, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Arch Whitehead, of Glen Allen, Ala. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Lovell, pastor of the First Baptist church, with music by Mrs. E. L. Barnes, organist, and Miss Nibette Sturgis, vocalist. Easter lilies and white gladioli filled the vases on the altar, which was banked with candelas and palms.

Miss Evelyn Johnson, of Columbus, served as her sister's maid of honor. Her dress of aqua net over tulle was a sheer, strapless bodice and long full skirt and was worn with bolero and long sleeves pointed at the ends and high neckline. Mrs. Bernard Jackson, of Athens, served as bridesmaid and her dress was identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of talliesman roses and cavalier roses, tied with talliesman ribbon, and wore a coronet of cavalier roses in their hair.

Escorted by her father, the bride was lovely in her gown of ivory slip satin having a flared skirt that ended in a long train. The close-fitting bodice was featured with a marquisette yoke outlined with beads and pearls. The long sleeves buttoned at the wrists and tapered over the hands. Her finger-tip veil fell from a coronet of deep pearls. She carried a prayer book covered with a white oriole, with streamers of white satin ribbon tied with feather white carnations. For her bridesmaid's wedding, Mrs. Johnson wore a grey-green crepe dress. Her corsage was a lavender orchid.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Woman's Club. Decorations were magnolia leaves, Easter lilies, white gladioli and mock orange blossoms. Centered with a cloth of point Venise lace, the bride's table was beautiful with the five-branched candelabra holding lighted tapers and arrangements of fern and mock orange. For many weeks some of the best talent in town and at the college have been combining their efforts in preparation for the rendition of "The Mikado," which will be given Friday night at Teachers College auditorium. The characters have been well chosen and many weeks have been spent on the stage scenery and costumes, which are not only very colorful but beautiful. The Music Club is sponsoring this production and selling tickets, and if the members have failed to do so they will be sure to do so on the college Friday evening at 8:15. It is a show you certainly don't want to miss. These days even the very young are tax conscious. As soon as the new sales tax went into effect the school charged tax on lunches. The first day this was done Ashley Etta and Ollie Boy's young son, asked to be excused from classes and to call his mother. It seemed he didn't know they were adding the tax that first Monday morning to the school lunches and was terribly upset that he didn't have the few extra cents. He called Etta and told her to hurry down to school, that they were trying to make him pay taxes and he knew that he was too young to have to pay them. It all came at all right, though, as the tax on lunches was taken off by the next Monday. Many of the wives have left to join their husbands who have gone from Camp Stewart. Margaret Hodges and her three young sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Godlee, where left this past week for Texas, where they will live. Their husbands are stationed at El Paso. Many of the other men have gone to Wisconsin and Tuesday morning Leland Riggs called his wife telling her he had bought a trailer, and for her to come on out. She and her young daughter will leave next week, driving out in car. Her brother, Dexter N. Smith, will drive out with her and come back on the train. Wives who have children in school are hoping to go out and stay at least a part of the summer when school is out. There is little summer out there. When Leland called he said the ground was frozen, and both days and nights are cold—Evelyn and Jim Coad left several weeks ago with their new trailer and two babies for Texas, and soon Jane and Eddie Rushing will be leaving. They have had a trailer some time and have it fully equipped to live in while they are gone—Marilyn Lewis is off to the University of Georgia for a week and to attend a dance on Saturday night given by the Zeta Phi Alpha sorority. It is an annual affair and this year it is called "The Paradise Ball." Will see you

BACKWARD LOOK

TEN YEARS AGO

From Bulloch Times, April 24, 1941
Eight million idle workers; more than million benefit checks issued in Georgia since enactment of present law.

Plans are being organized for continuance of the high schools of Bulloch county through the present term to permit graduation of those now in line.

Added benefits under new law; farmers who take part in the new program are eligible to receive $3 per acre for carrying out specified food production practices.

Traffic conditions are slowing down in Statesboro; in mayor's court Monday morning Mayor Hook stuck fines to only nineteen speedsters, a decline from forty-three the week before.

Special services will begin at the Methodist church Sunday to continue for two weeks. The pastor, Rev. J. N. Peacock, will be assisted by Rev. Norman Lovin, pastor of Rose Hill Methodist church, Columbus.

Teams which have qualified for membership in the Ogeches League are Statesboro, Camden, Swainsboro, Waynesboro, Sylvan, Sandersville, Thomson and Wrens. Statesboro is to have Wednesday games.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From Bulloch Times, April 23, 1921

Spring term at Teachers College opened Monday with hundred new students.

Guy H. Wells, of Teachers College, was elected president of the Georgia Education Association at the session in Macon last week.

Of interest to many friends was the marriage Saturday, April 18th, of Miss Ruth McDougald and Roy Beaver, solemnized at high noon by Rev. A. E. Spencer, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The Statesboro Mayor's Club held its annual meeting Thursday afternoon, April 18th; officers elected for the ensuing year were Miss Hester Newton, president; Mrs. Howell Cook, first vice-president; and Mrs. H. P. Jones, second vice-president.

Curtis Lane, Statesboro young man, was winner of the contest for children of school age to name the health train operated by the State Board of Health in co-operation with the Georgia & Florida Railroad; the name he submitted was "Hygiene."

The 290th Army band played a martial greeting at the arrival of all four trains. After each train pulled in the soldiers debarked swiftly, moved smoothly into formation before moving trucks that rumbled then off toward their new homes.

"It's barracks for us fellows," was the cry that went up and down the line each time.

That was good news!

"We've been living in tents down at Camp Stewart," explained First Lieut. Felix H. Treadway, of Nashville, Tenn., 14th battalion adjutant.

"And contrary to popular opinion it gets mighty cold along the Georgia coast."

MEAT INSPECTION PROGRAM FIXED

County-Wide Action Is Ordered By Board of Health For General Betterment

The Bulloch County Board of Health, at its regular quarterly session April 12, adopted a meat inspection ordinance designed for the protection of the health of the public. This is the same ordinance adopted by the city of Statesboro in 1940 which is working to the satisfaction of the city, meat market operators and the consumers.

The county-wide ordinance has been set up to become effective July 1, 1951. Its purpose is to aid every citizen of Bulloch county to obtain safe and wholesome meats and meat products. It does not aim to discriminate against any individual or groups of individuals. Health department personnel have already begun visiting establishments handling meats for the purpose of advising operators of the requirements of the ordinance.

The major points which have been stressed

GEORGIA BUREAU DEFENDS FARMER

Oppose Recent Proposal To Assess Storage Costs On Commodities In Loans

The Georgia Farm Bureau rolled up its sleeves for another fight to protect the income of the Southern farmers. By a unanimous vote the Georgia Farm Bureau directors in session on April 18th and 19th, voted to fight the recent recommendation of the American Farm Bureau to the Secretary of Agriculture that the farmer pay in advance twelve months storage costs on all commodities placed in the CCC loan.

This recommendation was not in line with the agreement reached by the Southern States on the long range farm program now in effect. The Georgia Farm Bureau Federation felt that this recommendation would be just another means of lowering farm income. During normal times they estimated that this extra charge would cost the Georgia farmers several million dollars.

The Associated Women Directors, meeting with the Georgia Farm Bureau board, presented a plan for organization of the Associated Women on the county and community level, which was adopted to go into effect at the end of the current year.

The re-organization plan recommended that the Associated Women in every community and county be headed by a chairman instead of the present complete set of officers. The plan was to thank Judge Rendon for his remarks to the grand jury and Senator Everett Williams and Representatives Joe Neville and A. J. Trammell for their support in the court. We also wish to thank Solicitor General Walton Usher for his assistance.

We recommend that these presentments be printed in the county papers and that they be paid usual fee for same.

Respectfully submitted,
DAN LANIER, Foreman.
HARRY S. CONE, Clerk.

Associated Women chairman on the local level would be an assistant to the president. She would be responsible in seeing that all activities delegated to the women were carried out. Stress was laid on the need of all farm families to work more closely for the betterment of the county and community.

Other action taken included the recommendation that Farm Bureau assist in bringing the necessary facts to farm people concerning the proposed watermelon marketing agreement and the referendum among tobacco growers. This referendum is to determine whether tobacco growers wish to affiliate with Tobacco Associates, an organization that is responsible for finding foreign markets for fine cured tobacco.

Farm Bureau Week was set by the Georgia Farm Bureau board for the week of September 10th. Meetings to be held in each Georgia's ten congressional districts were set up to begin on June 14th.

The Place To Start

IT IS PLEASANT to report that Congress really seems to be turning "economy minded." This is largely due to the prodding of Senator Byrd, who has a detailed plan under which the next budget could be reduced by more than $2,000,000,000, and to growing resentment at national extravagance expressed by taxpayers. You don't have to be a grade-A financial expert to see where big cuts can be made. For example, take just one major item in the budget—the proposed budget—that dealing with electric power and related projects.

According to this, the government should spend some $400,000,000 more for natural resources development in the coming fiscal year than in the last, including an increase of $65,000,000 for TVA. Seven new river basins are also planned. These, plus new power units and transmission lines for federal projects already under way, if approved, cost about $1,500,000,000.

It is a fact that these facilities, in large part, would duplicate those of the business-managed electric utilities. It is a fact that they would waste not only huge sums of money, but would waste manpower and vast quantities of critical materials. It is a fact that the government projects would destroy sources of taxation—while projects developed by private enterprise create large new tax revenues for all units of government. And it is a fact that the regulated utility industry can, and will, provide all the power we can use now and in the future at the lowest possible cost to the domestic, agricultural and industrial user.

Here is just one instance where a big cut can be made in the budget without touching any necessary or desirable government activity. It's a good place to start to block the growing federal socialization program.

Where Is Far Enough?

START ANYWHERE, in any direction, and keep going, and the certainty is you go too far.

That is true in theory and in reality. The real problem of life is to know how far is far enough. A democracy which permits men to go the limit—every man to do absolutely as he pleases—inevitably leads to disruption. Even betterments can be carried too far. Absolute freedom of action and of speech are conditions which exist only in theory. No man has a right to do a thing which brings harm to others with equal rights.

An old Irish friend declared that "every man has a right to do as he pleases, and the man who won't do it, ought to be made to." And that was an anomaly. Why shouldn't every man be entitled to do—until what he infringes upon the equal rights of others?

Let's not carry this phase too far with our periodic campaigns to compel other men and nations—to sword-point—to do according to our way of thinking. It is a dangerous thing to draw the stopping point, to be sure. But the truth is mankind has shed blood and brought mass destruction in the ages of the past in human efforts to compel others to change their ways and ideals.

The blunt truth is, from the beginning of time life-and-death combat between men and nations has attached to the profit line. The Christianization of those we call heathens has been counted on to bring them in line to share with us—and contribute to our own betterment.

Today nations are selling war materials—stealthily and openly—to other nations engaged in life and death combat for the right to go their own way. Russia has sent out spies—has bribed men and women of our own nation—to undermine for the cash consideration which is involved.

In the Holy Writ we used to hear propounded in the log school house, there was the phrase, "The laborer is worthy of his hire." Gradually our affairs have progressed—higher education and improved ideals—till there was substituted the philosophy, "The loafer is worthy or still higher." And the man who labored has been made to share—higher and higher—with the man who loafed. Then came the old philosophy, "The greatest good to the greatest number," and the loafers came more fully into their own. The loaves have grown to the point that the laborer who worked only through the daytime, found it needful to toil into the night—and the end is not yet at hand for the man who has earned and saved, and is being made to share with the man who earned and squandered.

And to the question, "Am I my brother's keeper," democracy has given the answer, "Keep on giving till it breaks you."

Less than two centuries ago men involved in debt and oppressed beyond endurance in the Old World, fled to America and declared a state of independent right—the privilege of every man to come and go and plant and plow up. Today America has grown to the point of absolute curtailment of the most sacred rights of man. A benevolent government takes away from men of industry and thrift for the betwixt of ease and comfort to men who have ignored their rights and violated their obligations to themselves and their families.

Where did we come from? Where are we going?

Sellings Stocks

IN 1792, WHEN George Washington was still serving his first term as president, the government found that it had to sell "stocks" to help pay for the Revolutionary War. But people had a natural reluctance to buy these securities unless they were sure they could be easily and quickly resold. In other words, a market place was needed.

So one was established, under a buttonwood tree which stood near the present location of the New York Stock Exchange. Traders met there each day to buy and sell. And the stock exchanges of the present serve precisely the function—except that they now list thousands of securities representing the industry and enterprises of America.

Actually, the basic idea underlying the security exchanges is simplicity itself. In effect, the stocks are auctioned. As with anything else of value, from a piece of furniture to a farm, the buyer wants to pay as little as possible and the seller wants to get as much as possible. The exchanges provide a market where the two can meet, adjust their differences as to value, and transact their business.

The exchanges do not buy or sell securities, or set or influence prices in any way. The owners and owners do the buying and selling. And those owners now number something like 15,000,000 Americans, most of whom possess only moderate means and incomes.

Wage Stabilization Form Now Available

Atlanta, April 23.—Printed forms on which a request may be made for a ruling on wage increases permissible under General Regulations without prior approval of the Wage Stabilization Board are now available at all offices of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, according to Investigation Supervisor James M. Patton, with offices on the fourth floor of the Title Building, Atlanta.

Also available at these offices are printed forms for reporting wage and salary increases under the Board's General Regulation No. 6, which permits increases up to 10 percent since the base pay period of January 15, 1950, Mr. Patton said. The printed form will be sent to anyone requesting it, together with instructions for completing it. Inquiries should be directed to the nearest office of the Wage and Hour Division.

In Georgia in addition to the office in Atlanta is a field office at 207 Industrial Building in Savannah, under the supervision of Investigation Supervisor Kenneth R. Morefield.

Here's The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Quite a few states are coming out of the lethargy as concerns where do we get off if we do not soon up and lower the boom on the giant vehicles 2 and 3 sections long, that are pounds our roads to dust. "Lethargy," my word, says Henry. Sure, I say—but quiet—and if you are no, I will proceed. I been prospecting where California has just discovered that its big trucks hit it up to 70, and that they outran by 15 minutes the fastest R. R. Streamliner between San Francisco and Los Angeles—445 miles. The state has just "discovered" this flagrant speed.

I deduct as follows, to-wit, via 3 answers. One: Let every citizen sell his silver—stay home. Two: Build passenger-size-car gopher holes every half mile, so when a 70-mile-per-hour double-jointed, mile-high truck heaves into view, Mr. and Mrs. Ordinary citizen could drive for safety. Three: And no jokin', require that the heavy freight people provide their own roadbed—join in, with the railroads, pay half the R. R. right-of-way and pave such if they choose, or get themselves the own private and independent roadway.

And in conclusion—after we get our pavements back—get ourself a new law where any passenger car builder who builds a car that will go faster than 50 miles per hour would be hanged at daybreak, or even sooner.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

Draftees If Notified Not Eligible For Enlistment

An applicant for enlistment who has received a notice to report for his pre-induction physical, or who has completed physical and has been found acceptable for induction, is not eligible to enlist in the U. S. Army or Air Force until such time as the classification by the local board has been changed or his order to report for induction has been cancelled.

Students may make written application to their local board for such cancellation for the purpose of enlisting in the service of their choice provided a vacancy exists and they are acceptable to the service. ## Hairpins and Organs Place In Control Panel

The Savannah District office of Price Stabilization has announced another group of businesses have been placed under a specific ceiling price regulation known as Amendment 2 to CPR 7.

In size the goods range from hairpins to electric organs and are listed by G. Elliott Hagan, acting director, as: glassware, sporting goods, radio and television sets, phonographs and records, luggage, notions, clocks and watches, jewelry, silverware, chinaware and musical instruments.

The amendment requires retailers to make out a chart showing the cost of the item, the selling price, and the markup (what he added to cost to cover expenses and make a profit) as of March 31. The chart is the same as the one now being prepared by merchants selling apparel, shoes, furniture and 75 per cent of department store items.

Government Assures
Payments Of Premiums

Georgians in the Armed Forces who hold civilian life insurance policies may have the premiums on these policies paid by the government while they are in the service, according to William K. Barrett, director of the State Department of Veterans Service.

Barrett revealed that the Soldier's and Sailor's Relief Act of 1940, as amended, provides that the government will guarantee payment of all premiums on policies held by servicemen and women until two years after these persons returned to civilian life. At that time the veteran can arrange repayment.

Barrett said that application to have the Federal government pay the premiums on such policies is made on Veterans Administration Form No. 380 in duplicate. One copy of the form is sent to the central office of the Veterans Administration, Washington, D. C., and the other to the home office of the insurance company which issued the policy.

In the event of the serviceman's death while in the service, the amount of the premium paid will be deducted from the face value of the policy. The balance will go to the beneficiary.

VA Form 380 may be procured from any induction center or military installation, or at any Veterans Service Office of the State Department of Veterans Service.

Polio Information
To Be Distributed

Six hundred thousand "Polio Pointers For 1951" will be distributed this week by the Georgia Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to every city and town in Georgia, according to announcement made today by Jesse Draper, of Atlanta, state chairman.

Designated by the National Polio Foundation to answer the questions every family wants to know—the symptoms of polio, precautions to take, where to go for help should polio strike—the pointers are printed on cards to be distributed through the concerted efforts of all city and county public health departments, the Georgia public relations committee, the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs and local county polio directors.

Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools, will co-ordinate the distribution of the pointers in the schools. Mrs. R. C. Fryer Jr., of Manchester, director of women's activities for the Georgia Chapter of the Polio Foundation, will work with the Federation of Women's Clubs for distribution to spots not reached by schools.

"Of deep concern to all of us is the fact that polio is the only epidemic disease which has been on the increase in recent years," said Dr. Draper. "Great concern is felt toward the increasing attack on the late adolescent and adult population. We believe that inestimable value in combating the disease will accrue from the co-ordinated distribution of the 1951 Polio Pointers. We urge every adult person in Georgia to aid in this worthwhile health service by saving these cards and by reading carefully the points they summarize."

DEMANDS UNITY FIGHT SOCIALISM

Series Of Addresses Will Be Delivered Weekly Over
Local Radio Facilities

William J. Bird, Washington, D. C., National Affairs Advisor for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, yesterday called upon every citizen of Bulloch county to help in combating the current trends toward socialism.

Opening a series of eight broadcasts over station WWSN, Bird informally discussed what he called "Socialism For Nothing Bugaboo." The series of broadcasts, sponsored by the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce, is transcribed from Washington, and will be presented one each week for eight weeks.

"Now, I'm sure we can all agree that we like to live in America," Bird said. "I think we can agree that we have a high standard of living—that we have the freedom to choose what we eat, or wear, or say, or who shall represent us in government. These things are part of our American heritage. And they are all due to our representative form of government, and to freedom of enterprise.

"But nowadays we are hearing a lot about this thing called socialism," he said.

Bird explained that Americans have made it politically popular for government to promise its citizens everything for nothing. He said those running for public office often promise everything that they believe citizens to secretly desire—including better roads, better schools, more electricity, more telephones, higher wages, more housing, and in fact better everything that the people now have. But, he pointed out, they never talk about who will pay the bill.

"All these so-called 'free services' of government must bring about an increase in income taxes, more and higher deductions from the weekly paycheck, more controls over our everyday life, and ultimately such promises will lead to national bankruptcy and government management of our lives."

Attacking inefficient government, and waste of the taxpayers' money, Bird said that the cost of living in the last ten years has gone up 76 per cent, while the cost of government has increased 350 per cent. He said the cost of government last year alone exceeded the cost of the national food bill.

Referring to a finding of the Commission for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government, Bird stated that in the Indian Affairs Bureau of government, there are 15,000 employees looking after 350,000 Indians. He reported that this meant there is one government employee for every twenty-two Indians in America.

"Do you realize that we have one civilian employee for every two enlisted personnel in the armed services? Do you know we have one government employee in the Veterans

Register F. H. A. News

The April meeting of the Register Future Home-makers of America took place Friday, April 20th, at 8 o'clock, at the Register auditorium. The program chairman, Jean Anderson, introduced Mrs. Zach Henderson, who gave an inspirational devotion from the book of John. She introduced an interesting musical program during the hour. The F. H. A. boys joined the girls for the program.

After the program, delicious refreshments were served by the social committee, Carolyn Wilson, Lulu Faye Motes and Editha DeLoach.

Friday evening, April 20th, the F.H.A. girls and F.F.A. boys met in the school gymnasium and enjoyed an evening fun. Folk games were led by Miss Eunice Tanner. Coca-Cola and cookies were enjoyed by all.

Thursday and Friday, May 4th and 5th, the Register F.H.A. chapter will be represented at the annual F.H.A. convention at the Ansley Hotel, Atlanta. Members who will attend are Ruby Ann Wilson, local president; Annette Crumley and Martha Ann Nevils, and Mrs. Lee Rowe, chapter adviser.

The F.F.A. boys and the F.H.A. girls will join their advisers, Mrs. Lee Rowe and O. E. Gay, June 18th, and attend camp at Lake Jackson, Ga. for the week. This is a state camp where all over Georgia chapters will be represented. The program for the week includes educational and recreational activities. There will be swimming, soft ball, badminton, folk games, shuffleboard, craft activities, talents and stunts. Each evening there will be a vesper program.

PEGGY LANIER, Reporter.

Administration for every 97 veterans? That we have one government superior for every 78 employees? Well, all this efficiency in government is going on day after day, and yet you don't seem to be at all alarmed," he said.

"Bird called attention to the fact that only fifty-one per cent of the eligible voters even took the time to vote in the last presidential election. "The first thing we must do is to become fully informed," he exclaimed. "Any informed citizen votes of government must bring about an increase in income taxes, more and higher deductions from the weekly paycheck, more controls over our everyday life, and ultimately such promises will lead to national bankruptcy and government management of our lives."

"Secondly, after you have informed yourself, inform others. Interest your friends. Tell them what you think, and tell them where they can get both sides of the issue so that they can make a better informed decision."

"Lastly, you must tell your Congressman what you think. Your greatest asset is your vote. So carefully elect your members of Congress, and then write a letter and tell them what you think and why."

"Bird then gave us our opportunities. Destroy our freedom? Trade in our American heritage for Socialism? For a foreign ideology that is failing all over the world today? I'll say not! Take heart, Americans! Buck up! Know the truth! Let's open our eyes, and united we'll uncover and show up this 'something for nothing bugaboo,' he explained.

Next week's broadcast will be on the subject of federal aid to education, and will summarize the bill now pending before Congress to turn over some responsibility to federal government for financing the public schools in America.

Success of Vaccine For TB Attested By Exhibit for AMA

CLEVELAND, O.—Dr. Andrew F. Ivy of the Chicago Research Foundation demonstrated in an exhibit before the American Medical Association recently how vaccination against tuberculosis, long a subject of much controversy among specialists, is proving itself all over the world.

The type of vaccination, known as BCG, after the French scientists by whom it was developed, now is being tested by the public health service.

In several well controlled studies the research institute asserts, "It has been found that BCG vaccination decreases by approximately 80 per cent those who contract the disease and who die of it."

The principle, it was explained, is very similar to that of smallpox vaccination. The vaccine is made from an organism which produces a mild form of cattle tuberculosis. It is harmless to man but sets up a resistance to more virulent types of the bacillus.

More than 50 million vaccinations have been performed since 1921. There has never been a proved case, it is asserted, of tuberculosis developing as a result of the vaccination.

A committee of tuberculosis experts of the world health organization, a U. N. affiliate, has recommended that between 15 and 20 million persons all over the world be vaccinated in the next few years.

Thirty million have already been vaccinated in Japan and other millions in Europe.

The disease, it is stressed, still kills about 50,000 Americans each year. There are now about one million active cases in the country and it still is the leading cause of death from disease between the ages of 15 and 44.

Experts Are Seeking Ways
To Increase Farm Workers

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A shortage of farm hands in 1951 has been predicted by some agriculture experts. As a result, congressional farm officials called on the laborers to attempt to find ways of increasing the number for laborers in 1951.

A number of congressional leaders want to "cut" immigration "red tape" to make it easier to bring foreign workers into the country for seasonal employment as a means of meeting the shortage.

Allowance Will Aid Child
To Develop Responsibility

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Dr. Luther E. Woodward, consultant for the National Association of Mental Health, believes it is important for children to have a regular allowance. He says it helps children to develop a sense of responsibility.

"It is important for children to assume growing responsibility in the family circle, and to have a feeling of confidence in their own ability to make decisions and try new things. They should learn to know the value of money, and be responsible for the consequences if they spend the whole allowance the first week and have no money the rest of the week," he said.

He suggested that allowance be expanded as a child grows into teens so that it would include certain clothing.

City parents, he pointed out, have greater difficulty developing a sense of responsibility in children than farm families, where a child learns to work along with the father or mother at an age when the city child is being completely cared for.

Telephone Prattling Teen
Ages Almost Cause Tragedy

MADISON, Wis.—The kind of telephone manners not to have was demonstrated recently in Madison. Two prattling teen agers almost caused a 6-year-old boy his life.

The boy's mother said her son started hemorrhaging violently as a result of a recent tonsillectomy. She tried to call the doctor and police, but two young girls were monopolizing the party line.

"I explained it was an emergency, but they laughed and kept on talking," she said. "When they finally stopped talking and I tried to dial, they would dial too. It took half an hour for me to reach the doctor."

The boy had a narrow escape, but doctors say he is all right now.

Pawn Shop Offers Violinist
$10 For His Stradivarius

OMAHA, Neb.—An anxious man, apparently down on his luck, entered Isadore Goldstein's pawnshop and handed him a violin.

"How much will you give me? I gotta get to Pittsburgh," the man said.

"Ten dollars," said Goldstein. The "customer" put the violin back in the case and stalked out. Then Goldstein learned that he was violinist David Rubinoff and the violin was a Stradivarius valued at $100,000.

A reporter who was on hand to see what happened explained to the startled Goldstein that the whole thing was a gag thought up by another newspaperman.

"My farm hauling costs me under 2¢ a mile!"

Lester Riesenweber bought his first Ford Truck in 1926. He says: "You can't beat Ford's gas, oil and repair economy. Ford's longer life means lower depreciation costs, too!"

Lester Riesenweber drove his 1950 Ford F-3 Express, equipped with the POWER PILOT, in the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run. He and 5000 others logged a total of 50 million miles!

"During the Economy Run," he says, "our day-by-day records show that we traveled 1,795 miles, with loads up to 2700 lbs. We had no repairs, paid a total of $34.98 for gas, oil and maintenance. That's only 1.95¢ a mile!"

Mr. Riesenweber's truck, of course, goes regular Ford Dealer service. And—like all today's Ford Trucks—it has the POWER PILOT, which gives you the most power from the least gas! Only FORD in the low-price field has the Power Pilot!

The trend reflects in some measure the effect of consistent and widespread education for safety, and the which has advanced the medical science has made in the treatment of severe burns. Even now, W. W. Edges admits claim about 4,600 lives yearly in the United States, and many additional thousands suffer serious and disfiguring injuries which do not prove fatal.

Lighting Reading Machine
A proposed reading machine which could search the entire library of congress and select the information on a given subject, and print selected abstracts at the rate of ten a minute, was described to the American chemical society division of chemical literature in Chicago recently. Five thousand times faster than an existing device called the Rapid Selector, which is said to have searched 50,000 references in five minutes.

The proposed machine might become the nucleus of a jointly-supported documentary project, financed on a subscription basis. The machine would make it possible to furnish bibliographic searches in response to any request by return air mail, giving an overnight service to information users.

Most of the mills, however are within the Union of India.

See the new Westinghouse FROST-FREE—the only refrigerator that counts! It counts door openings, because door openings let in warm air which causes frost to form.

At every 60th door opening, which is just when frost begins to build up, the FROST-FREE automatically defrosts itself and automatically evaporates the frost water.
